You should not rely on the information provided for diet choice or replace advice given to you by your own healthcare professionals. If in any doubt consult your healthcare professional.

In no circumstances will Eating with Dignity be responsible or liable, directly or indirectly, for ANY injury, loss or damages that may arise from the use (or misuse) of any information contained on our site.

The professional information contained in Eating with Dignity could contain technical inaccuracies or typographical errors. Eating with Dignity reserves the right to make changes and improvements to any information contained within its World Wide Web pages, at any time and without notice.

The use of recipes or information from this site is done so entirely at the users' own risk, for which Eating with Dignity will not be liable. It is the user's own responsibility to ensure that any recipe or modified diet suggested on this website meets your / your patients' specific requirements.

Third Party websites

This Website may contain hyperlinks to other websites operated by parties other than Eating with Dignity. Such hyperlinks are provided for your reference only. Eating with Dignity does not control such websites and is not responsible for their contents. Eating with Dignity inclusion of hyperlinks to such websites does not imply any endorsement of the material on such websites or any association with their operators.

This Website is for your personal and non-commercial use. You may not modify, copy, distribute, transmit, display, perform, reproduce, publish, license, create derivative works from, transfer, or sell any information, products or services obtained from this Website.

The Eating with Dignity Logo must not be copied, reproduced or displayed without the Charity's prior written permission. Other than the recipes (which may only be copied for personal use), no part of the Charity's website, including text and photographs may be copied, reproduced or displayed without prior permission.

Eating with Dignity uses reasonable endeavours to check the accuracy of the professional information published on this Website. You should note however that Eating with Dignity does not warrant that such information will be error free and the user acknowledges that the information, products, and services published on this Website may include inaccuracies or typographical errors. Changes are periodically added to the information herein. Eating with Dignity may make improvements and/or changes in this Website at any time.

Eating with Dignity and/or its respective suppliers or contributors make no representations about the suitability of the information, and products contained on this Website, including where mentioned in recipes, for any purpose. Eating with Dignity shall use reasonable care and skill in providing the information contained in this Website. Eating with Dignity and/or its respective suppliers or contributors hereby disclaim all warranties, terms and conditions with regard to this information, products, and services, including all implied warranties, terms and conditions, by statute, collaterally or otherwise, of satisfactory quality, fitness for a particular purpose, title, and non-infringement.

In no event shall Eating with Dignity and/or its suppliers/contributors be liable for any, indirect, incidental, special, or consequential damages arising out of or in any way connected with the use of this Website or with the delay or inability to use this Website, or for any information, products, and services obtained through this Website, or otherwise arising out of the use of this Website, whether based on contract, tort, strict liability or otherwise, even if Eating with Dignity or any of its suppliers has been advised of the possibility of damages. Except in relation to liability for death or personal injury caused by its direct negligence, for which no limit applies, the liability of Eating with Dignity and/or its respective suppliers and/or contributors for direct loss arising out of the use of this Website, whether based on contract, tort, strict liability or otherwise, is limited to the total value of the transaction under which the claim arises for any one event or series of connected events. This does not affect any statutory rights as a consumer.

Collection of Personal Data

We do not collect or retain any personal data. If you contact us by email with a specific question we will use reasonable endeavours to respond but make no guarantee of doing so. We will not share any email addresses and the email will solely be used to respond (where possible) to the email. Please do not provide personal information in such emails. We have no requirement to hold such data and no means for doing so.

Eating with Dignity will not pass emails or information provided in such emails onto third parties for any purpose except where expressly required to do so by the laws of England.

[Notwithstanding anything to the contrary Eating with Dignity may also hold your name and email address details in relation to assisting Eating with Dignity in the provision of the information in this website. Eating with Dignity shall at all times remain responsible to you for the treatment and use of data submitted via the Website which is held by Eating with Dignity.]

General

Eating with Dignity reserves the right to change the terms, conditions, and notices under which this Website is offered.

These Terms of Use are governed by the laws of England and you hereby consent to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts in all disputes arising out of or relating to the use of this Website.

Use of this Website is unauthorised in any jurisdiction that does not give effect to all provisions of these terms and conditions, including without limitation this paragraph.

If any part of these Terms of Use is determined to be invalid or unenforceable pursuant to applicable law including, but not limited to, the warranty disclaimers and liability limitations set forth above, then the invalid or unenforceable provision will be deemed superseded by a valid, enforceable provision that most closely matches the intent of the original provision and the remainder of the agreement shall continue in effect.

A printed version of these Terms of Use and of any notice given in electronic form shall be admissible in judicial or administrative proceedings based upon or relating to this agreement to the same extent and subject to the same conditions as other business documents and records originally generated and maintained in printed form.

Any rights not expressly granted herein are reserved.
